LAKE COUNTY FREE EMPLOYMENT BUREAU TO OPEN THIS WEEK

Institution Made Possible by McDonough's Bill to Begin Business

Lake county's first free labor omployment hureau with headquarters at Waukegan is expected to hegia business litis week at 129 Lake street in the county seat city.

The bureau, which will be maintained by the Illineis Department of Labor, was made possible through the efferts of Representative Lee Mc Donough, who obtained the passage of the bill through the state legislature providing an appropriation of $14,430.00 for its maintenance. Many stormy sessions and months of labor on the part of Representative Me-Donough and his fellow legislators were required before the project became a reality.

The bureau will extend free omployment service and information to all of Luko county, likewise serving as representative of all industries, commercial institutions, breeders, farmers and others who employ workers in any capacity. The burenn will have three employees and office hours will be from 7 a. m., until

"It should be understood that the bureau is a Lake county institution and that it will co-operate with all employers and those who seek employment in the county", Representative McDeneugh said today.

Everything is all set for the opening of the bureau, according to Mc-Donengh, and the doors will be opened just as soon as the state administration sees at to name the personnel

SMITH A CANDIDATE FOR U. S. CONGRESS

Seat in Congress From 10th District

State's Attorney A. V. Smith's announcement has come. The Lake county prosecutor has definitely deelded to make the race for U.S. Congressman from the 10th Illinois district. Col. Smith's announcement was made Saturday, after months of deliberation. He is granted a good chance of winning by these who have conducted an intensive survey of the district, which comprises Lake county and part of Cook, including Chicago's north side.

Service Record Will Help The candidacy of Col. Smith is looked upon with favor by many service organizations, and his favorable attitude toward 'legislation' for the ex-soldier is expected to prove a major help to him not only among ex-service men but among all voters.

Cel. Smith's record as state's attorney and a soldler has kept him in the public eye for the last twelve years. He is now serving his third term as county presecutor. He has directed the prosecution of internationally famous cases, including the historic Len Small embezziement case, and conducted the investigation of the jury bribery charges that landed the defendants in jail.

Some trembled to think what should become of the ship of atate while he gulded it through the troubled, waters. A member of his cabinet wrote him a letter shortly after he became president in which he frankly said that Lincoln was not fit to be president, that his nomination and election had been a great mistake, and that for the aake of the country he ought to permit another to control the policies which he kept in the background. Doubtless there were many who felt that the president was incompetent, because they did not comprehend the real capacity of the man and his ability to see beyond the passing moment. They saw only the present; Lincoln visioned the ages, and we appreciate him because motorists and reduce the number of sceldents on high we see little of what his great mind grasped.

MOST PEOPLE HAVE A FAMILY CIRCLE

They have relatives living in other places—some near, some far. And they keep family ties alive by telephone. It is very easy to make out-of-town calls and it certainly is a pleasant way to keep in touch with your "folks."

Sons and daughters away at school ... perhaps an older son working his way to success in another city . . . your own parents, still living in the home of your childhood . . . dear friends moved away . . . all of them are as near as your telephone.

Some persons set aside a certain hour each week for telephone calls like these, which mean so much. From the quiet of their own homes they telephone those they wish might be with them. Try it yourself. You will be repaid for the small cost many times over.

On calls to points approximately 60 to 300 miles distant the station-to-station day rates have been reduced recently in amounts which will mean a saving of more than $5,000,000 to telephone users of the United States.

It Tomahtoes Or Tomaytoes?

How do you pronounce it? "Sure it's tomaytoes", says the Irishman. "Don't ye ate 'em?" And the packers of canned tomatoes are inclined to agree with him even if they don't quite agree with his etymology. The dictionaries, too, recommend this pronounciation, and define the werd as "the pulpy edible fruit of a familiiar plant of the nightshade family. highly esteemed as a vegetable, or the plant Itself".

Hewever you pronounce it, you like to eat it, so here are some of the latest recipes for making tomatoes taste especially good:

Stewed Tomatoes with Toast Cubes Turn the contents of a No. 21/2 can of tomatoes, three-fourths teaspoon salt, three tablespoons sugar, one and one-half teaspoons onlon juice and one tableapoon minute taploca into a sauce pan, and stew gently for 15 minutes. Add, one tablespoon butter and turn out into acrving dishes. Meanwhile, butter two thick silces of bread on both sides, cut in small cubes and brown lu a hot oven or under the brotter flame. Drop several cabes on top of each serving, and serve at once. Serves alx.

Scalloped Tomatoes, Scotch Style Bring to boiling the contents of a No. 2 can of tomatoes, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one tablespoon augar, and a few grains of pepper. Add one-half cup quickcooking rolled outs, and pour inte n buttered baking dish. Cover the top with buttered crumbs, and bake in a hot-375 degrees-oven for thirty to forty minutes. Serves

PAYING ONE'S DEBTS

My father's youthful amhition, while llving as he did in the north of England, was to come to America where, as he thought. there would be freedom and a better opportunity for getting on in the world. He was thirtyfive years old before be had amassed enough to pay the passage of the famlly and have enough of a balance to establish himself in a new country."

Coming across the ocean in a sailing vessel, as was done eighly years ngo, he came into centact with n young preacher, who, like himself, was seeking a greater opportunity in a new country. The minister had not been as frugal os father; he had saved little and on the way over he fell sick, and was without resources to buy himself, was touched and when they landed he advanced the man the one hundred dellars which be had saved for an emergency. It seems a small sum; hut it was a fortune to father, for it. and butter. was practically all he lind. They York. Father never heard from him agalo. He was the sort of man of which we have so many-he did not take his debts scriously.

John D. Rockefeller, the richest man in the world teday, perhaps, if net. the richest who has ever fived, says that the thing which first caused him to get a finnucial start was his habit of always meeting his obligations. "Pay your debts" was the slogan and affluence.

I was sitting in the office of a bank. er friend of mine not long age, when a man came in to ask for a loan. I knew semething of his circumstances. He owned a good deal of property and so far as I knew it was not in any way encumbered. He was looked apen as a man lu better than good financial standing. It was five hundred dollars be wanted. I think.

"I am sorry," the hanker sald, "but we are not in a position to let you have the money at this time."

The man went out, and sherily afterward a farmer come lo and made the same request. He explained to my friead that he had little but his own word to offer as security. "We are very glad to let you have the mency," the banker said. "I know about you; you pay your dehls." Ho turned to me. "You were surprised, pessibly, that I did not let Black have the five hundred deliars for which he asked, knowing as you de, hew much property he owns. It would always be possible to collect from bim, but anyone who lends him money generally has to force a collection. No one who knows him will lend him anything, for he pays his debts only when he has to do so. This last man is peer, but he is lienest. He always manages some way or other to meet his obligations. We ure always glad to do business with him."

Sally Ann's Adventures -at her home

Little Sally Ann went to a birthday party at the home of one of her mamma's friends the other day, but much to Sally's disappointment there was only one other little girl there with whom she could play. She is about one year younger than Sally Ann, and two weeks ago she had the carache-poor little girl, don't you boys and girls pity her?

When she told Sally Ann about it. Sally Ann told her that she wanted to make believe that she was the doctor. And so she went lato the attic and hunted up a nice paste board box, that Betty (the other little girl) would just fit in, and then she told her to lle down in it and pretend she was alck. Then Sally Ann got Betty's doll blankets and covered her all up nice, and cozy so she wouldn't get cold. Then she took some of the tissue paper that she found in the box and put it in Botty's ears-to make believe that she had a terrible ear-

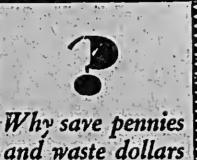

There Betty lay as still as a mouse for about an hour, while Sally Ann watched her attentively to make sura that she didn't get any sicker. Pretty soon Sally Ann's mamma missed her little girl and also Belty and so and his family food. Father's heart of course she know as well as could be that they were into some mischief, hecause otherwise they would be down stairs teasing for some candy or maybe just a piece of bread

So SallyAnn's manima went up went in different directions from New stairs hurriedly, but quietly in order to catch the little rascals at their mischlof. When she got up there, there was Betty lying in the box and Sally Ann standing beside her, watching patiently to make sure that she was not getting any sicker.

"My goodness gracious, what are you doing?" said Sally Ann's mamma: "l'se jes playing doctor", replied the little girl in a cunning tone, "and which marked his read to presperity Betty is torribly sick—she has an awful earache", she continued.

Of course her mamma was just tickled to death and she couldn't help laughing, but she told Betty and Sally Ann that they had better come down stairs because lunch was going to bu served and it would be terrible if they had to miss out on the ice cream and cake. .

"Love" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon la all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 2,

The Golden Text was, "The Lord will command his lovingkindness in the daytime, and lu the night bis song shall be with me, and my prayer unto the God of my Life" (Psalms 42:8).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Hible: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want" (Psalms 23:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to Imagine that Jesus demonstrated the dlylne power to heal only for a select another or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divice Lore supplies all good" (p. 494).

SET FOR BIG SHOW AT PALACE FRIDAY

Some of the Country's Best All-Star Amateurs To Be In Ring

Boxing fans are all set for the big boxing show to be staged at the Antloch Palace Friday night, when an all-ster card will be presented. Promoter Richard Macek, who has conducted the only successful boxing bouts in Lake county, will continue to act as matchmaker. George (Jabber) Young, Chicago's most popular referes, will act as the third official. This will be the first show to be staged in the local arena since it was closed last November. Promoter Macok has made every effort to bring to Antioch some of the best amateurs in the country.

Heavy Weights in Windup

Walter Capel, 190 pound husky scrapper from Milwaukee, will be featured in the windup event with Joe Risko, of Belle Plaine, who also hits the 190 mark. Since both of these hoys are reputed to be fast, they are sure to put up a fight that will be well worth watching.

In the semi-windup -Eddle Garlow, Konosha, will be matched with Wm. Rivers, Lightweight champion of Mexico, and Howard Craft, well known "On Thursday morning at ien Grayslake fighter, with Jack Lazar, o'clock there was a champion game Belle Plaine. The card for the pre-

Greater Beauty - Finer Performance

Never has a Chevrolet car won greater praise for its appearance than the new Chevrolet Six. Its new Fisher bodies reveal in every detail the artistry that has made the Fisher name famous throughout the motor car world. In beauty of line and color, in balance and harmony of design, they represent one of the greatest style triumphs in Fisher history. And the promise of this exterior beauty is more than fulfilled when you look inside the car. Upholsteries are richer and more durable. The instrument panel carries a new and more attractive grouping of the control instruments. Seats are wider and deeper. In fact, not a single feature has been overlooked that would add to the comfort and convenience of both driver and passengers.

In addition to its new beauty, the new Chevrolet Six represents a remarkable advance in every phase of performance. Its improved sixcylinder valve-in-head engine has been increased to 50 horsepower-giving faster acceleration, greater reserve energy and more comfortable high speeds. Steering has been made safer and easier by a new front axle assembly Four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers provide exceptional riding comfort. Fully enclosed, internal-expanding, weather-proof brakes give positive braking control. And numerous structural improvements add to the car's dependability, endurance and long life. Come in today and see this car. And remember, it is now available—

Citizenship and Patriotism

HE WORLD WAR again proved to all nations the intense patriotism that dwells in the heart of every American. There is an increasing appreciation of the rights of citizenship on the part of American citizens, though the records show that the majority of towns and cities are lacking in the spirit of citizenship in local affairs and elections.

THE CRYING NEED IN OUR COMMUNITY LIFE IS THAT EVERY CITIZEN BECOME AN ACTIVE CITIZEN; FOR A COMMUNITY CAN RISE NO HIGHER THAN ITS CITIZENSHIP.

Many residents are not registered, probably not one in three so-called citizens vote in primaries, in school or judicial elections. The vote is generally small in local elections. In other words, many of us are not "good" citizens—we do not exercise our franchise of citizenship.

A community cannot be well governed—cannot hope to have an efficient and economical administration of many of the most vital aspects of its life, if its citizens are not actively civic minded. More than one-half the taxes are raised for local distribution. Yet, normally, more people vote in national and state elections than vote in local elections.

Is that good business? The least a citizen, man or woman, can do is to show an intelligent interest in public affairs, both national and local. The chief direct responsibility for the majority of us is to attain citizenship, establish residence, register, vote, serve on juries, be loyal and strive for an American standard of living.

Our town efficials welcome awakened interest in civic affairs. It means much to our business men and property owners. All residents benefit by a renewed surge of civic energy.

As "two heads are better than one" so are "many heads better than a few" in the matter of local citizenship and patriotism. Remember, a town can be no better than its individual citizens.

> Local citizenship and patriotism are deserving of a large amount of consideration on the part of all of us. In these we can SHOW the superiority of

"Mr. Tiger would like a word with your fudsblp."

Hugh rose, his Jaw.set.

"I'll ralk to blin outside," he said. The door closed behind him, and we tooked at each other, startled, uneasy. Notingly said anything. We were all thinking of the conversation going on In the corridor.

The tense shace insted for perhaps five minures. Then the door was reopened, and High entered.

"Hilyer wants to talk terms," he announced, "In the circumstances, I didn't feel that we could afford to overlook any chance, and I have arranged that four of us will meet four of his crowd at Illimi's house at three this

"I don't trust the dog," I said far, mediately. "Why go to Hilmi's house? Why couldn't be talk here?"

"He said the only way he could prove that he has a certain trick up his shove would be for us to go there, He also pointed out that we need have no fear of treachery, as we only needed to leave word hehlad as where we were going. Hillyer seemen to n censomable frame of admi. He said his crowd are sick of the whole business, that they as well as we are wasting; time, and that we might as well compromise. What I am after is to feel out the enemy's position."

None of us could think up a valla reason for objecting to Hugh's strategy, so it was agreed that he, Vernon. King, Nikku and myself should keep the appointment at Hilmi's house. Betty sald she would take Watkins and go for a sall in the Curley, and we all approved of her plan because we consldered her safest on the water.

Tragedy and Comedy in Alchemists' Dreams

Tragedy in England, comedy in Ger many ended the researches of alchemists for the means of throing haser metals lato, gold and sliver. In England James Price claimed to have found a way of enusing the conversion. He even demmistrated his experiment before a birge group of celebrities, in cluding King theorge III. When re quested by the Royal nendemy, how ever, to exhibit his method to them, he showed a disinclination to do so. Finally, however, he was persuaded. When only three members of the nendemy arrived on the day appointed. Price swallowed a quantity of the strongest polson known ut that time, धमते बाल्तः

A contemporary theologian, named Sender, in Germany, placed a so-called jamicea, the Sull of Life, lon far with a stone. He later found linkes of gold some and found it to be a metal called "Dutch Meinl," Upon investigation it was found that a servant of Semler's placed the gold each day on the stone to please his musicr. In the servant's absence the wife purchased the cheaper Dutch metal and spent the remainder for brandy. Semler admitted his inistake and the matter was a standing loke for many years. - Detroit News.

WO thousand school children were some time ago subjected to an eye examination, it was not a selected group. Yet 45 per cent of them required glasses for their school work. Moreover, B2 per cent of the 65 per cent who made o normal rending ofthe examination chart were discovered to be far sighted when controlled by "drops."

Which seems to bear out the state ment made by mullioritles that 50 per centilor impulred eyesight can be prevented. It appears that some one is to-blame.

Children de not like to wenr ginsses. No one does, But h is the duty of those responsible for the young peoples tuture to have their eyes exumined by a reputable specialist and abilde by his advice, it any attention ls required.

When it becomes necessary for a child to wear glasses it certainly is better for him to do so during a few years of school life than to have permanently defective vision later on in

Even though the specialist may find nothing wrong at the time, such subsequent conditions us frowning, wntery eyes, blurred vision, eye nelie, or persistent headache are, singly or in combination, indicative that trouble has developed. Don't delay having it remedled.

And while on this eye subject, don't neglect your own. Serlously impulred sight is too big a penalty to pay for such enrelessness. When It comes 10 this advice for your children and yourself step up and sincerely exclaim, "Ayel Ayel" and mean it.
